

CCS Parents:

We are very pleased to announce that we have a new library circulation/catalog program, L4U, in our school library now. It will allow you and your child to search our library collection from school and home computers. I have trained 3rd - 5th graders on using the catalog search feature. It's very user-friendly so parents and older students should have no difficulty using it.

Students can search for books by keyword, title, author, series and subject. There is also a topic search feature which allows for broader searches and browsing: animals, religion, science, fine arts, military, etc.

To log in to our L4U catalog search program, go to this web address:

http://184.106.115.192/4dcgi/gen\_2002/Lang=Def.

We will also have the web address posted on the CCS website on the library page for your convenience.

In addition to searching the collection, students may log in to see what books they have checked out and which ones are overdue. Overdue books appear in red print. To log in from the catalog search screen, click on the login button. The ID is your child's last name. The password is the same pw used by your child for renweb and AR.

This new library technology will help our students to have full access to our collection and increase their information literacy skills. It will also offer convenience to all our CCS families using the Accelerated Reader program at our school.

Some students still have books that were checked out under our older renweb library program and are now overdue. Notices for these overdue books were sent out last week. ALL library books are due Friday, May 13. Summer library hours will be announced in a separate email.

I am still working on adding materials into the new catalog and tweaking a few features to better suit our school's needs. This summer we'll be entering AR book levels and points to all the books in the collection so you'll automatically know if a library book is AR and what level it is.
